RAISING CONFIDENT BOYS AND GIRLS

Some parents have noticed their boys falling behind the girls in marks and interest in school. Are boys, on average, falling behind girls in academic achievement? Are boys' and girls' brains hard-wired differently? In this session, we will examine some of the issues around boys' academic achievement, link some of the differences to brain research, and explore male and female role models. Parents will have an opportunity to share stories and strategies that will help raise confident boys and girls.
